LEARNING CONTENT DIGITISATION

SOLUTION OVERVIEW

Any modern organisation is in a constant state of flux and needs employees to upskill as effectively and conveniently as possible – all within time and budget constraints. The value of thoughtfully curated and designed courseware is pivotal to the quality of learning provision in all modes of instruction.

We have a team of experts to develop bespoke digital content for your organisation's unique learning requirements. We approach courseware development with a full appreciation of the complex interaction between learning outcomes, courseware, teaching, learning and assessment.

The quality of the digital learning solution will support organisational and employee learning goals and the financial aspirations of business and other providers.

TECHNICAL FEATURES

- Define your learning and development requirements and design and structure your digital learning content and experience.
- Create learning pathways for the organisation and individual delegates.
- A cloud-based solution that integrates seamlessly with existing software architecture to provide a holistic IT experience within an organisation.
- An affiliation with Global Partner, aNewSpring, means we can provide our clients with an alternative LMS solution.
- A team of content creators and digital experts who will upload digital content onto any of our platforms and guide you through the process.
- A team of in-house system and content developers with the enthusiasm and drive to provide unique digital learning solutions and exceptional service.
